TOMORROW probably the world will be about the baseball series and attention to the common man. You may know a nation is well when half its citizens are interested in it than in a election.

ONCE UPON A TIME Mrs. Anne New York had her son, drowned in a swimming pool. Yesterday her died of grief. She had taken the floor night after night.

Chicago Mrs. Clyde Ryker only years old, killed three children herself with a gun. In a fit of rage at Junction City, 17, consumed in a fall fire.

Saturday 12 men died in New York five more died early yesterday in afternoon all killed by boozers in slush speakers' houses in twenty-four hours were killed in the names of men. Potenziani was known as a notorious drinker.

That alcohol was thoroughly destroyed evidently.

PRINCE POTENZIANI, recently governor of Rome, and Prince Gallicotti fought a duel of 31 rounds in round of two minutes. Potenziani was picked his adversary's upper arm and wrist a few times. The boxer was satisfied.

The original Lancet would not have been satisfied.

DUELING is forbidden in Italy and Mussolini will have something to say about the childish encounter.

The Catholic church punishes such offenses with excommunication.

ANGELOTTI accused Potenziani of graft in office. In the old days Potenziani's victory would have cleared his name, every taking it for granted that God would not allow a guilty man to get the better in a trial.

Now we are not so sure that the rules of the universe supercede such encounters.

TWO American passengers, booked for ocean flight on the German airline, have insured their lives for $100,000 each. That will seem small to air travelers a few years hence.

FIVE thousand feet up in the mountains a fine hotel and casino room will invite visitors to the tiny republic of Andorra. The casino business has been bid between automobile manufacturers and other luxuries, and has been sold to the gambling gentlemen.

A MERICAN visitors to Blarritz will take money to the moon in repose and bring away interesting impressions.

The visitors will sigh. But the casino and traveling will open the eyes and ears of the Andorran, creeping thought upon them. Perhaps we will come from evil.

GERMANY is building the two finest steamships in the world, five days from New York to Southampton. German ocean airship will take you from New York to Berlin in 50 hours or 80 hours in bad weather. The war did not destroy German enterprise.

MAN'S crack or a single move will tell you have it.

The speaker was one of four young men who carried automotives in interrupting the business deal of Samuel Stein and Joseph Gold in Stein's diamond emporium, New York City.

TWO hundred thousand dollars of diamonds were glittering on soft velvet. More diamonds were in the safe. Mr. Stein opened it when the bandits left. He led with the lift of a pistol.

Four hundred thousand dollars was the reward of the four young men with bandkerchiefs over their faces.
In these days of crime efficiency was diamond dealers' best door.

A LITTLE poor horse, the automobile crosses him.

In England Henry Alexander wagered that he could drive his new Ford car up the highest path in Great Britain. The trip was over 12,000 feet and it took nine hours for the car to make the climb.

The car would never make it and would probably fall over the edge of the British, so they sent up a policeman with a gun strapped to its back.

Britishers do like to miss their marks.

The car reached the top. As for the poor horse, the London Stockade reports it safe.

A horse carrying precious jewels slipped over the edge of a steep incline and fell to its death in the deep hundreds of feet below.

The old oil, "Get a horse!" is hard to move.

THIRTY thousand tried to leave London Semple McPherson's first train to London. Only 10,000 crossed into Albert Hall. And as reporters only a few were invited.

HOOVER IN FAVOR OF POWER PROJECT

Nominee Stands Committed to Government Operation of Muscle Shoals

By WILLIAM F. HUTCHINSON
Marion Star Staff Writer

Washington, Oct. 9.—Herbert Hoover stood committed today to goven-ment operation of the $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals project for scientific research purposes and the manufacture of fertilizer.

Hoover specifically declared he approved the Coolidge administration's recommendation that the project be dedicated to agriculture. He declared the power developed at the project over and above that necessary for manufacturing fertilizer, should be divided on such terms and conditions as will safeguard and protect all public interest.

The Republican nominee made his first call on Muscle Shoals clear after an hour's conference with members of his board of strategists. He declared he stood for governmental ownership and operation of Muscle Shoals. In effect, Hoover appeared to be calling the plan, which did not protect the project to agriculture, but which was rejected by Congress last spring.

By stating he favored use of the project "for research purposes and development of fertilizers" Hoover left no doubt as to whether he approved the Norris bill, which congress enacted at the last session but which was killed by President Coolidge.

Pantages theater. Men, women and children ran swarmed to the street crying out in their fright and excitement.

During a minute there was no loss of life.

The heaviest quakes were almost continuous for 30 minutes. Small houses and walls crumbled to the ground.

PART OF CITY CAR RAILS TO BE REMOVED

Council Takes Action to Lessen Electrolysis Damage to Pipe Lines

URGED BY FIRE CHIEF

City Must Do Work, Franchise Relieving C. D. & M. of Responsibility

On recommendation of Fire Chief P. J. McFerren, a motion for-ing San Antonio to remove certain of the street car rails from the streets was passed by city council last night.

Rails will be removed from the entire block between State and High streets, from East Center to and from South Main at between Center and Church streets.

In addition a single rail will be taken out every 300 feet on East Center from High to the end of the block, and from Church to the end of the South Main at High.

Request Prompt Action

Stating that engineers who made a survey of the situation at his home had advised the more, Chief McFerren requested that the work be done as soon as possible.

Interference of electrolysis which damages gas and water mains, electrical conductors by cutting holes through the pipes and cables causing leaks was given as the chief reason requiring removal of the rails.

Electricity follows the rails until it comes to a switch point and then turns to its starting point and then turns to the underground main or conduit which gives an easier path, according to Chief McFerren.

Breaking continuity of the street car rails will not eliminate all electrical interference, Chief McFerren said, but will increase safety.

Rails on other streets in Marion are properly mounted in concrete and bonded with copper cables so that interference will not leave the rail breaking of those tracks is unnecessary.

Chief McFerren said in his home the main electrical line to the house was cut off by an amateur who was trying to repair it.

New Supervisor Kept Busy With Task of Handling City School Music Work

T. R. EVANS, who came here in T. R. EVANS, who came here in early September a comparatively boy, and carefree man, is now the ever busy director of some 600 aspiring to the citizens of Marion he is officially known as "music supervisor of the Marion public schools" and as successor to Howard M. Temple, who served in that capacity last year.

In addition to the training of the 250 youngsters enrolled in school orchestras and the 250 children who make up the school glee clubs, Mr. Evans is in charge of class room music throughout the elementary grades.

Plans for Year

The new instructor has announced but few and minor changes in the musical program of local schools. He expects to add interest to the year's work with both senior and junior high school entertainments at some time during the winter, and to wind up the year's activities with a musical program presented by the grade school pupils. The latter will be similar in many respects to the cantata work which Mr. Temple formerly used to bring school musical activities to a close each year.

In the month that he has been here Mr. Evans has reorganized the musical societies of local schools and has now, in working order, a Hawley high school band, orchestra and boys' and girls' glee clubs, two junior high school orchestras and four junior high school glee clubs as well as 11 unorganized grade school orchestras.

More Variety Needed

"I find my chief difficulty in instrumental work in the public schools to be that too many children play the same instruments," Mr. Evans said. "There are not enough flutes, oboes, violins, cellos, French horns and alto. All kinds of instruments are required to make a successful orchestra."

Mr. Evans, who makes his home in the Curtis building, West Center St., came here from Upper Sandusky where he superintended public school music last year. Previous to that time he acted in the same capacity at the Oakwood school, Dayton. His home was originally in Lucas. He is a graduate of Miami University, Oxford, class of 1923.

AT HIGH MARK

Building Permits Establish Unusual Week's Record

Under the stimulus of a $30,773 day a week ago Saturday and a $35,000 building on West Center St., building permits here last week were more than double the total for the week before. The total for the preceding week was $12,855.

Nineteen permits were issued by the city clerk's office Saturday to attain the unusually large total. The $35,000 permit was issued Tuesday to J. W. Then, who holds the leasehold on the lot next to the Hotel Hawley on which the Montgomery Ward Co. of Chicago will operate a new retail store.

The exceptional total for a week ago Saturday included the following: Stewart G. Glaser, 22 permits for a total of $21,773; the Jones Brothers Co. five permits for $7,500; and Leslie E. Adams, six permits totaling $7,500.

SISTER IDENTIFIES SHOOTING VICTIM

Clears Up Mystery Enveloping Grace Dagon, Former Marion Woman

Mystery enveloping the past of Miss Grace Dagon, former Marion woman who was found shot to death in her home at the edge of London, O., last week, was cleared yesterday when Mrs. G. D. McClure, of Janes, arrived in London and identified the "mystery woman" as her sister.

Mrs. Dagon, who was employed as a domestic in several Marion homes in 1927, was found with a bullet hole in her head in her home in the outskirts of London, where she had lived alone.

Probability that the woman died a suicide was also established when Mrs. McClure verified the report that her sister had at one time attempted suicide by shooting herself while at the grave of a brother in a Idaho cemetery several years ago.

Mrs. McClure, who said that she read in the Idaho newspaper of the mysterious death of her sister on Friday and spent 25 hours attempting to locate a brother in Toledo, said that her sister had left her home in Idaho five and a half years ago and that they had never heard one word from her since that time.

She said that they were born in Holmes county and that there were nine children in the family. One brother is supposed to live in Toledo. Mrs. McClure last heard from his two years ago. Another brother is believed to reside in California.

Mrs. McClure said her sister lived with them in Idaho about two years, and was employed in a store during that time.

Guns Directed by Sound Waves.

The tenth annual meeting of the Army Ordnance Association at Aberdeen, Maryland, last week, no doubt was interesting throughout to those who make a study of offensive and defensive instruments of warfare. Great rifles capable of throwing sixteen-inch projectiles weighing 2,100 pounds a distance of thirty miles, up-to-date tanks able to demolish such tanks as were utilized in the World war, 600-pound bombs dropped from airplanes, light tanks capable of making twenty-two miles an hour, parachute jumps and airplane stunts including airplane machine-guns attacks on ground targets combined to make up a ten-hour program for the entertainment and instruction of the 8,000 present at the proving ground.

But the feature of the program which now to the majority of those present will have the greatest interest for the average reader was the demonstration of the new three-inch anti-aircraft gun, mounted on a truck, which is self-tilting and follows its target. The gun was trued on the target, a red sleeve towed by an airplane, at a horizontal range of 15,000 yards. At least two "theoretical" hits were scored out of ninety-five shots fired, and the sleeve, when examined, showed ten holes, some possibly not direct hits, but the results of the sleeve being hit by fragments of shrapnel. The gun, a report of the demonstration explains, is able to compute and hold its range, even considering the altitude of the approaching or departing plane through sound waves created by the plane.

The plane towing the target was so high during the test that it could not be seen by the naked eye until the shells, exploding six miles in the air, marked a white trail along the path of the moving "enemy." Between the cloud-like shots formed by these shells the sleeve target appeared as a mere dark spot in the sky.

Herbert Hoover on Main Street

Mr. Hoover does it in education, but education was a short and brief departure from the Herbert Hoover of 1920. His record is not a bad one. The cold fact is to long know Hoover, the Ex-President, in a time it has grown to be known to the Hoover carrying all and comfort to the suffering there and everywhere, that it was something of a revelation when he voted out of the house, shooting and trusts which should have forced us to realize we go with one who has accomplished the great works in succuring suffering humanity which have been credited to him.

Elizabethton, the little Tennessee city chosen by the Republican nominee for the giving of high tribute to Main Street, is located in the historic neighborhood of King's mountain, a "far western" point on our border when this nation was young. Today it is an industrial point in the "New South." That he selected Elizabethton for his initial address in his invasion of the South was probably due to its position and its political complexion. It is a little Republican stronghold and is so situated on the slender nose extended to the east from the great body of Tennessee that it is in easy reach of three or four other southern states.

"I, with other Americans," Mr. Hoover told his hearers, "have perhaps unduly represented the stream of criticism of American life, the stature and character of our people.
More particularly have I resented the anxieties at Main Street, for I have known that in the cottages that lay behind the street rested the strength of our national character.

"When it came to the organization necessary to meet that great catastrophe the pros-perty of time alone made it necessary to rely wholly upon the leadership, intelligence, the devotion, the sense of integrity and service of hundreds of towns and villages on the border of the flood.

"It was they who must undertake the instant work of rescue, the building of gigantic camps, the care of children, the provision of food, the protection of health of three-quarters of a million of homeless people.

"All that we who were in the direction could do was to outline the nature of the service that every town and village should perform, rested them with resources.
"In the face of that terrific problem that would test the stamina and quality of any people there was not a failure in a single case."

"This perhaps stands out larger in my mind than most men because under similar conditions of great emergency I have had the duty to organize populations abroad.

"And in my country does there exist the intelligence, the devotion, the probity, the ability to rise to a great emergency that exists in the Main Street of the American town and village.

"I do not wish to disparage the usefulness of Broadway, Pennsylvania Avenue, or State street, but it is from Main Street and its inhabitants that the creative energies of that nation must be replenished and restored."

This from one who knows the world and the cities and peoples of the world as perhaps no other man knows them! What high tribute to the worth of small city, village and suburban life could possibly be paid?

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN ORDER

Increase in Ringworm Disease.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

A short time ago the United States public health service issued a startling statement regarding the prevalence of ringworm. I am sure you will agree with me when you read the following quotations from that report:

"The disease is remarkably frequent, and it is probable that at least one-half of all adults suffer from it at some time. In the University of Pennsylvania a careful survey of all students showed that over 60 per cent. were affected with the ringworm organism."

"Almost every one who uses a swimming pool, a golf club, an athletic club, or any place where there is a common dressing-room, gets the infection on his feet. It is highly probable that the development of club life, the great increase in the number of swimming pools, and probably the general tendency of the American public to spend a certain amount of time in hotels, is largely responsible for the increase in this disease."

Opening Entertainment of Lecture-Recital Program Is Outstanding Success

Large Audience Delighted with Offerings of Brahms Quartette as First of Series of Groups Booked for Fall and Winter

PA. HALLIE HOUCK

— over the fall and winter of the Marion Lecture-Recital, The Brahms quartette, at the Star Auditorium, was an outstanding success in the excellence of the numbers and the charm of the singers, together with the large and appreciative audience.

Comments were heard upon all sides, praising the beauty and quality of the voices of the four young women in Claribel Banks, first soprano; Louise Odiorne, second soprano; Nancy Hitch, first contralto, and Elvira Marley, second soprano, who comprised this quartette of vocal chamber music artists.

Mrs. Harry L. Goodlure, state president of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, at the piano, was in perfect accord with the voices and was a delight to the audience.

The program opened with a group of four numbers, composed by the German artist for whom they were named, Johannes Brahms. This artist wrote for women's voices, which the quartette sang in the English tongue, for his numbers offered a variety of the range of their voices in the clearness of their tones. "Minuet," "Die Nonne," "Die Herze sind opfer," and "Nun steht die Rose" were the numbers in the Brahms group. The last one was a gay, light song which showed the true qualities of all four voices.

Second Group

Songs adapted to musical settings made up the second group of English Madrigals, which included "Wheal as I Glance," "May Day Carol" and "May is the Month of Maying." The May day songs were of the engaging, care-free nature, and won the audience instantly.

Perhaps the best received of the numbers in a foreign tongue were the French songs.

The strength and volume of the singers' voices was well displayed in the first of the four numbers, "Doux les Chapelots," of the seventeenth century, a song with the sounds of bells almost distinguishable in these women's voices.

"One Tu Bergere," a song of the sixteenth century, was the second of the French series. Undoubtedly, the most delightful of these numbers was the third song, "Brin Sour," by Debussy. Nancy Hitch sang a solo part and the other three lovely voices hummed as she sang. The sound was like a soft symphony of beautiful tones and was one of the most enthusiastically received of any in the program.

"Les Bells Marimers," a song of the eighteenth century completed the group of French songs, all of which were arranged by Deems Taylor. As an encore of his favorite collection, the quartette pleased the audience with an old French Christmas Carol of the twelfth century.

Italian Selections

"Un Molti Oltre," Greek, and "Villanella Alla y' Napolitana," Denitti, were two charming Italian numbers presented with feeling and expression by the Brahms.

Czechoslovakian folk songs furnished the themes for the following three songs, of a wide and varied nature. A plaintive note was struck in the first of this series, "Dobr' Noe," and the other extreme of a spirited, vivacious strain was found in the song, "Prilidny." "Suhajku," "Tee Voda, Tee," was a song in three parts, solos being given by Claribel Banks and Nancy Hitch. The first part presents the wail of a girl, bewailing her lover who doesn't come to see her. In the second part it is explained that she has been unfaithful to him, and the last part, he has gone to war to die honorably for his country.

One of the sweetest of songs, "Love's Old Sweet Song," Molloy, was specially arranged for the quartette by Deems Taylor, and was a selection of rare and lovely shading and blending of voices.

"The Little Fisherman," Eastwood Lane, was a child's song presented with a delightful sense of child-like gaiety. "Li Boum Banks and Braem of Bonni Deon" and "Ranin Norin' Robin," were a change from the printed program, but were nevertheless a delight to the listeners.

Final Number

The audience refused to allow that favorite group to conclude their program without another encore and the quartette sang a song dear to music lovers, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," another song arranged especially for the quartet by Deems Taylor.

The Brahms Quartette added to the attractiveness of their program by appearing in quaint old fashioned hoop skirt dresses of white, yellow, green and rose lavender, presenting a "fairy" note to their ensemble.

The quartette, which is under the exclusive management of the National Music League of New York City, is given a large tour throughout the United States. Wednesday the 24th a women appear in a group of select men before the Tuesday Musical Club of Marion.

One of the last evening's features of their program in this city was the outstanding fact that none of the songs were lengthy, the whole program occupying but an hour and fifteen minutes of time.

The Marion Lecture-Recital, which has two more artists' numbers at eight recitals, all of which have been arranged with the interest and thought for the audience living in the city.

Ladies since your grandmother's day have prided themselves on using Burnett's. Now, though there are hundreds of cheap imitation said by misinformed grocers to be "just as good," Burnett's Extracts are still the preference of those of discriminating taste.

MISS MADISON DAVIS

Know Her?

You ought to know this lovely New York City girl because her blonde beauty has been displayed on so many magazine covers. She's Marion Davis, 35 Clarkson St., Brooklyn. Artists say she's a "peep." They girls rave over her delicate flesh, but the golden glow of her hair!

Mrs. Davis says: "Everyone I know, tells me how wonderful my hair looks, nowadays. I don't feel like it's a personal compliment, however; I take it more as a compliment to the method I'm using to care for it. It's the rage among girls here in New York. All you do is put a little Dandilene on your brush each time you use it. My hair was wavy and hard to keep in place, but Dandilene makes it soft and easy to dress and holds it like I arrange it, for hours! My scalp feels tingling with vigor after I use it, and it keeps my head so clean I don't need to shampoo half so often. It brings out the color of my hair marvelously, making it look like silk."

Every application of Dandilene tones and refreshes your scalp. It removes the oily film from each strand and makes hair strong, gleaming, soft and easily manageable. It dissolves dandruff and keeps it out of your hair. It isn't sticky or oily, it doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 25c bottle—Ad.

ANNUAL TAG DAY SET FOR OCT. 13

Volunteers of America To Solicit Funds Here To Aid Work for Children

The Volunteers of America, a national welfare organization, will hold its annual "Children's Heart Tag Day" in Marion on Saturday, Oct. 14.
The tag day this year will be sponsored by the following local citizens: Dr. H. L. George, Rev. E.
McLaughlin, Rev. Karl W. Padow, Mrs.
L. B. McNeil, Mrs. Frank Phillips, Mr. Fred Berg, Mrs. J. H. Guthery, and Mrs. Harry Zirk, with Mrs. Lewis Uhl in charge of finances and young people's work.

The tag day here will be entirely by children and the money obtained will be used to help little folks of this state who are in need of assistance.
For that reason the tag day work here is to be done entirely by young people of the city.

Money received for the tags will remain in this particular district for disbursement under the direction of Lieut.-Col. Walter Collins, at Columbus, who has been in charge of this area the last 26 years.

The Volunteers of America, organized over 25 years ago by General and Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, has one or more headquarters in every state in the union. One of the brightest and most remarkable pages in the record of Volunteer movement is that which sets forth history of the Volunteer Wilson League, which is established in 52 state and federal prisons. The first phase of the League's work is a special message of hope and assurance of help taken to the men while they are behind the bars. The second is in the providing of homes for the discharged and paroled men until positions are found for them. The third is the knowledge of these men that their wives and children, through the ministrations of the League, will be provided for and watched over until they are in a position to care for them again. During the last year, the Volunteers have received on parole 2, 112 men and women, and secured employment for 3,190 discharged men.
This work has been reorganized by national and state officials as a factor of great benefit to the country.

In addition to the work of the Prison League, the Volunteers of America maintain, in every state, clubs for working girls, home halls, old people's home, boys' camps, day nurseries, fresh air camps for poor mothers and children, rescue homes, charity, relief and industrial departments.

Mt. Gilead Council Discusses Sewer Problem at Meeting

WILL CONFER WITH STATE DEPARTMENT

City Solicitor Advises on Two Methods of Financing Work

BEDS OVERTAXED
Proposition To Add New Beds and Equip Old Ones

Mr. Gilard, Oct. 9.—In a called session of the council last night to consider the estimates of an estimating engineer on the probable cost of construction and reconstruction of sewer beds here, the council was notified by L. V. Ault, chairman of the sewer committee, and Chas. Wicks, engineer, that the cost would run between $14,000 and $15,000. Figures discussed at the last meeting before estimates had been taken were around $10,000 but this is far short of the amount needed.

Second to be considered was the method to be used to secure the money. Original plans were to bond the town for the amount, subject to the acceptance or rejection of the bonds at the election in November. However, the time is now past for pledging special levies for the retirement of the bonds in the ballot box this year, except at a special election.

Solicitor Advises

City Solicitor C. H. Wood advised the council that two methods could be used to secure the amount to borrow money on the strength of a declaration of the health board that the beds in their present condition were a menace to public health, or to subject the proposed bonds to a special election. After discussing the advisability of taking action, the council decided to send at least one or more representatives to confer with the State Tax Commission in Columbus this week and report at the next meeting next Monday.

A representative of the state department in a meeting some time ago advised the council that the beds were being burdened two and one-half times as much as their regular capacity would permit. At the present time, there are a menace to public health, or to subject the proposed bonds to a special election. After discussing the advisability of taking action, the council decided to send at least one or more representatives to confer with the State Tax Commission in Columbus this week and report at the next meeting next Monday.

Single Ring Service Coffles Upper Sandusky Couple

Cigar Sandusky, Oct. 9.—Of interest to a large circle of friends is the marriage of Mary Adele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Madday, West Hicks St., and John Wesley Milligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Milligan, North Fourth St., which was solemnized at noon Sunday, the Rev. O. H. Williamson, reading the impressive single ring service at the Methodist Episcopal church. Present for the ceremony were Mrs. Madday, Mrs. Madday, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Jo Milligan, sister of the groom.

The youthful bride was lovely in a gown of transparent velveteen with metal cloth. Harmonizing accessories completed her costume and she carried an armful of bridal flowers.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents to members of the immediate families and a few close friends. A color note of pink and white was carried out at the bridal table and baskets of flowers were used in the decoration of the room. Mr. and Mrs. Milligan left later in the afternoon for a short honeymoon and on their return will be at home at 111 North Eighth St.

For the past three years the bride has been the owner of the Poudre Puff Beauty Shoppe in this city. Milligan is associated with his father in the Lath Gravel Co.

Out-of-town guests at the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Loren L. Maday, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Madday, Charles Kay and Mrs. Maday, of Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Madday and Mr. and Mrs. T. Wayne Gableton of Crestline; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Maser, of Alliance, and Mrs. Phillip Goborn of Kirby.

GUARDS PRAISED BY DEPUTY WARDEN

Three Investigations Under Way in Prison Brick Plant Fire

Junction City, Okla. — Every guard was at his post and each did all in his power to get the inmates to safety when the fire broke out.

With this statement Deputy Warden H. C. Blesser, in charge of the brick plant here, today dismissed an order that an inside guard on duty in the dormitory which was gutted by the explosive fire yesterday morning with the resultant loss of 17 to 20 convicts had made his way to the steel door, pushed outside and then slammed and barred the door against the cursing fighting men trying to escape the flames.

"There was one guard on duty in side the dormitory," Blesser explained, "and he tried to get the door to hit the man out but the press of fear and denied convicts attempting to batter down the door from the inside made it impossible for him to reach it. The door was finally battered down from the outside and all those inside had ample time to escape. It is my belief that those who did did so because they did not run to the prison yard at the first alarm but remained behind to gather up their personal belongings and when they did make a dash for the door they were too late."

them are believed to have been those
